Robert Carrier accompanied Mr. John Stavros to the Selectmen's meeting last Tuesday and introduced him to the Board as the new owner of the Harbor Beach Restaurant at Harbor Beach, Mattapoisett. Mr. Stavros will be the manager as well as the owner. He is from a family with a notable background in the restaurant business operating the White House Restaurant in Worcester and the Coach & Six in Peabody. The Board of Selectmen unanimously approved the transfer of the All Alcoholic Beverage License to the new ownership. OBJECTS TO TENNIS VARIANCE

Dr. Edmund C. Harrington, Jr. of 169 North Street presented the Board of Selectmen with a petition containing 40 signatures opposing the granting of a variance for the building of a Tennis Club. Dr. Harrington alleged the variance would be a violation of the town's own zoning law and that the true abuttors were not notified. He alleged that the plot 105 proposed for the facility which Mr. Roger Canto plans is not registered as a plot plan. He also alleged that the principal owner is Dennis Mahoney & Sons, owner of the land surrounding this plot and according to Dr. Harrington this situation makes the owner his own abuttor. He said that the area is residential and he feels that the abuttors in the neighborhood should have been notified so that they could have attended the variance hearing. He said that, in the first place, Tinkham Hill Road is not recognized by most people as the road which leads to the landfill. Dr. Harrington said that even abuttors were not familiar with the name. He said that the facility is presented as a club but since it is not limited it is open to any outsider. He said neighbors do not want the constant noise. He questioned the water supply, the "hundreds of people" using a septic system in an area containing much wetland. He questioned the environmental impact and the effect on the water table. He said the road is not open access road because it is closed by a fence.

Chairman William Hubbard replied that the Zoning Board of Appeals is an autonomous body and the Board of Selectmen do not meddle in their affairs. He told Dr. Harrington that any question regarding the legality of the hearing should be brought to the Board of Appeals and Mattapoisett Town Counsel Donald Fleming. He said that the fence exists as a matter of agreement and must be removed as the owner of the surrounding land requests. According to Mr. Hubbard, if legal procedure was followed in the variance hearing, then there is no step that the Board of Selectmen could or should take.

termine, they said, what rights the new ownership has to expand the parking by purchase of residential lots. Mr. Theriault and Mrs. Fullerton said that the small beach adjoining the Harbor Beach Restaurant is frequently cut off by parked cars and they are apprehensive about a new and heavier influx of parking.

Chairman Hubbard said that, within the zoning by-law, the owner could purchase lots and park cars on them if all other regulations were followed. Mr. Theriault asked that if the restaurant's septic system overflowed should the Board of Health be notified. Mr. Hubbard replied, "Absolutely, and the Mattapoisett Board of Health must notify the Massachusetts Board of Health" should this happen. Mr. Hubbard suggested that Mr. Theriault and Mrs. Fullerton meet Mr. Stavros, the new owner, and express to him their concerns. They could meet with the Zoning Board, the Board of Health and the Building Inspector for answers to specific questions he said.

Soccer Clinic

For the past two weeks young boys and girls have been seen performing various soccer skills on the Center School field. The clinics were set up according to the United States Soccer Federation's guidelines for young players and were implemented by Ray M. Cabral, U.S.S.F. Licensed Coach at Old Colony; and Jeff Lucas, coach at Old Rochester Junior High.

The two coaches demonstrated the proper technique for the various moves in soccer, which were then practiced by the young players.

The Pele training films were viewed by the players during the course of the clinics. The young players were able to see the ease with which the world class players performed the same moves they found difficult. It showed the positive aspects of training and what can be accomplished with practice and concentration.

Many thanks go out to: Sheila Mitchell and the Sports and Athletic Committee, Mattapoisett School Committee, "Mudgie" Tavares, Mickey Bauer and Bob Gardner, the high school players from Old Rochester and Old Colony, Coach Jeff Lucas and especially the young boys and girls who were exposed to soccer as a fun sport.

Human Services

CERTIFICATE AWARDED

The Alcohol Provider's Association has just completed the second of its training sessions at the Lakeville Hospital complex. Among the students was a Marion resident, John H. Messler, who was representing the Marion Center for Human Services.

This program is to instruct its young people on the current facts about alcohol and drugs. The course was also designed to teach preventative programming skills that would aid in substance abuse.

The instructor for the course is Mrs. Barbara Feinstein, who holds a Masters Degree in Social Work. She is also the Director of People to People Associates. This is a counseling, consulting and training agency located in Newton, Mass. Mrs. Feinstein has also co-authored a book entitled "The New Volunteerism: A Community Connection". The book deals with how people in the community can become vital members of human services in their own community.

The program itself, (Project Alert) is coordinated by Mr. James Wickenden, past headmaster of Tabor Academy. Mr. Messler is certified, through "Project Alert", to inform and instruct youth in primary prevention. Mr. Messler is currently associated with the Marion Center for Human Services as a volunteer coordinator of "Youth Dynamics", an activities group for youths from ages 8-13 years.

BROWNS WIN LITTLE LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Pizza and coke was the order of the evening, thanks to John Coucci and Pete Coville, following the Brown's victory over the Jets, clinching the 1978 Little League Championship for the Browns. The final score of 5-2 for the third playoff game indicates a well played contest.

John Coucci's pitching and hitting combination was just too much for Ted Cormier's hard-playing Jets. Coucci's two-run homer in the fifth inning sent the Browns easily on the road to victory.

A combination that's hard to beat:

The greatest threat by the Jets came in the fourth inning when bases were loaded with one out. Coucci struck out the next batter and Chris Coville, in center field, plucked a hard hit ball by Mike Harris out of the air for the third out.

The season marked the end of Little League coaching for veteran Brown's coach, Bonnie Xavier. Under his teaching-coaching, the Browns were champions in 1976, took second place in 1977, and regained first place again this year. Congratulations and thanks from a lot of Mattapoisett youngsters who played for you, Bonnie, and good luck to Dr. Tom Frazee who takes the reins in 1979.

TIPS ON LAWN MOWER SAFETY

Are you up-to-date on lawn mower safety? If you're not, you're dangerous to yourself and to others around you. Here are some safety tips from the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute for using a rider power mower.

1. Know what you're doing. Start by reading the instruction manual so all the maneuvers your machine makes come out right the first time.

KEEP ARMS AND feet away from moving parts when starting up the engine.

2. Test the controls—especially the ones that let you stop fast in an emergency.

3. Clear the area of kids and pets—you never know when they can dart in front of you or when objects might be thrown by your machine.

4. Keep your arms and feet away from moving parts when starting up the engine.

5. Make sure the engine has completely stopped before making repairs, refueling or storing. Remove spark plugs for extra safety.

Safety know-how and a little common sense can mean a beautiful lawn and a safe season for you
